

EXHIBIT H — Email correspondence with Plaintiff’s counsel, June 29–30, 2026

What this document proves: Plaintiff’s counsel served the Motion for Default by email June 29; Defendant immediately (same night and next morning) advised counsel she HAD responded on June 11, requested withdrawal of the motion, and identified the case-number confusion — demonstrating due diligence and actual notice to Plaintiff that Defendant is defending.

Subject	Re: Hewett v Rogers/Case#26-002613-CI

To Whom It May Concern,

I am writing to address the ongoing confusion and procedural irregularities surrounding the Estate of Richard Melillo (also known as Rick Radka). To date, I have received communications referencing four different case numbers:

25-010530-ES

25-009099-ES

26-000874-ES

26-002612-CI

I submitted my response on June 11, 2026, and again today, yet the case numbers continue to change. I previously provided Attorney Michael Cavonis with documentation of my equitable interest in the property, including the quitclaim deed executed by Mr. Melillo/Radka and his verbal assurances regarding my right to remain in the home.

The shifting case numbers, inconsistent filings, and lack of clear communication have left me uncertain whether this is simply administrative error or an attempt to create confusion that could lead to a default judgment and an ejectment before I am given a fair opportunity to be heard. I want to be absolutely clear: I am not a squatter, nor a month-to-month tenant, as has been implied. I have lived in this home for years with the full knowledge, consent, and encouragement of the decedent.

I am currently involved in four civil matters simultaneously:

The probate estate.

2.

The ejectment action filed against me.

3.

A civil lawsuit regarding a mobile home purchase that has turned out to be fraudulent.

4.

An appeal related to that same fraudulent transaction.

In an effort to comply with your client's demand for immediate vacatur, I spent the remainder of my life savings on a mobile home — which has now resulted in litigation, leaving me financially devastated and facing homelessness.

Despite all of this, I have continued to:

Pay the household bills, many of which are not even in my name.

Care for the decedent's cat after the designated caretaker declined responsibility.

Maintain the property and safeguard estate items.

Operate my business (an LLC registered to this address) while dealing with the theft of $30,000 worth of my son's pressure-washing equipment from the driveway. I requested assistance from the heir regarding a possible insurance claim, but received no response.

Manage the unexplained towing and removal of a 2021 Mazda from the property without notice, communication, or documentation.

I am devastated that this is how probate matters are being handled and that no compassion or basic human concern has been shown to us during this process. I am doing my best to represent myself pro se, but I am not an attorney, and there is no accessible legal or housing assistance available to me in this state.

I respectfully request clarity, consistency, and fair treatment moving forward. I am entitled to due process, and I am doing everything in my power to comply with the law while protecting my home, my business, my son's livelihood, and the animals entrusted to my care.

Sincerely, Brandi Rodgers

Good morning,

I unable to comment or advise on the other matters in which you are involved in. With respect to Case No. 26-002613-CI, however, please be advised that we filed an action for ejectment, to which no answer was filed in response. As no responsive pleading was served within the time prescribed, we have moved for the entry of a default pursuant to the Florida Rules of Civil Procedure. Should the Court enter said default, we intend to proceed with recovering possession of the subject property. We strongly encourage you to retain legal counsel to represent your interests in this matter, should you be unable to do so adequately on your own behalf.

Thank you,

Gabrielle M Englander Davis, Esq.
Civil Litigation Attorney
